

LIFESTYLE

Former Toronto Argos Orlando Bowen gets the One Team One Voice high school all-star team pumped up prior to “getting their build on” at the Habitat for Humanity site on Torbram Road in Brampton. Photos by Stephen Uhraney

Orlando Bowen discusses plans with One Team One Voice members Chanter Simm, Brevna Balachandran and Dreylin Lattimori at the Habitat for Humanity build site.

Three cheers for progress! One Team One Voice high school all-star team members “getting their build on”.

All-stars help out

A group of 20 high school all-stars, representing Orlando Bowen’s One Team One Voice youth leadership group, have been doing their bit to improve lives in Brampton.

Bowen, a former Canadian Football League player, chose 20 young people (aged 14 to 18) based on their community work to participate in 10 days of activities beginning last Wednesday. The group included 12 from Brampton, as well as others from Toronto and London and even two from Chicago.

Sponsorships and fundraising covered the costs for the all-stars. One of their first stops was last Thursday, where the all-stars assisted Habitat for Humanity in the construction of homes at 8600 Torbram Rd., where they did their part despite a heavy downpour.

On Friday, the students served breakfast and met with homeless and underserved people in downtown Brampton. Saturday was a team-building day, which included them participating in an Amazing Race-type game, along with other fun activities in downtown Brampton.

On Sunday, they were in Toronto for a tour the Rogers Centre before watching the Toronto Argos take on the Ottawa RedBlacks in a CFL contest.

After that game, they boarded a bus to Muskoka Woods where they will be staying and participating in activities until tomorrow.

Members of Orlando Bowen’s One Team One Voice organization get a birdseye view of the build.

Members of Orlando Bowen’s One Team One Voice organization lend their help on the site of a Habitat for Humanity Build on Torbram Road in Brampton.

Showing the One Team One Voice all-stars how to install drywall is crew leader Bob Rutledge.

Even a torrential downpour didn’t stop Orlando Bowen and his One Team One Voice group.